TRAINING SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

CLARK M. FRASIER

DIRECTOR OF TRAINING

Dear Mrs. Lathrop,

I am writing you concerning Corinne's work in school.

Corinne is courteous, cooperative in working with both pupils and teachers. She is always alert and interested.

Corinne is intelligent and well informed. She reads with exceptional ability and understands what she reads. She takes an active part in the class discussions and is always ready to make reports.

She does good work in all of her studies.

She is well liked by other children and works and plays well with them.

Corinne is timid and at times self-conscious, but because she is intelligent and self-confident, I think she will overcome this. At the present time she is interested in one-act plays based upon her reading in history. I think that appearing before the class in these little plays is doing much to help her overcome her timidity.

I hope that you can visit the school soon.

Sincerely,

Keith Lavin
