

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF LAW AND SOCIETY

University of California
Berkeley 4, California

January 30, 1962

Dear

Dr. Corinne Gilb will discuss the rule-making process in private organizations, with special attention to organizations of professionals. She is preparing a manuscript on this subject, treating such topics as the kinds of rules enacted with purely internal relevance, the conditions under which formal agreements with other organizations are sought, and the when, how, and why of seeking sanctions from the state. Dr. Gilb is particularly interested in comparing rule-making by private organizations and law-making by governments.

The discussion will be held in the O'Neill Room of the Faculty Club, Thursday, February 15, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. You are cordially invited.

Sincerely,

Philip Selznick
Chairman