Dear Corinne:

It was good to see you the other afternoon and to learn that you are helping in my campaign for reelection.

Your support means much to me personally and I know that it will be a great source of strength to me publicly. I will do my utmost--in campaign and in office--to live up to the principles and to serve the purposes which have led us to devote ourselves to politics and government.

My heartiest and most heartfelt thanks to you always.

Cordially,

Alan Cranston
